Does anyone know what the license type this project is released under, can't seem to find it on the site or in the code?

I could also not find it. I am going to try to contact the project administrator. I have made some changes to the FastAGI code to handle exceptions better.

If we can find the license, and it permits modification. I have my changes stored in a GIT repo and can publish them somewhere.

The original code was licensed Apache II by Explido software who originally developed the application, but no longer provides any public support or development. The web site for it went down a while back after a period of inactivity.
This is why the admin picked it up.
http://www.explido.us/
So the question is licensing for any additional/modified code as allowed by the original Apache II license.

Ok so I can continue my modifications. So that I can share my changes, the admin would have to grant me devel access to the SourceForge project. I have used the SourceForge contact adimi, so we will see what happens next.

License for this project - beerware.
If you want insert some modifications - send patch or full text to project owner.
